Exercise 2

Explain how to use symmetry to sketch the graph of an equation.

Solution

If there's symmetry in a graph, you only have to plot part of an equation's graph and then mirror that across a line so it appears the same on both sides of this line.