

Exercise 3

Explain why the domain of  $y = \sqrt[3]{x}$  is different from the domain of  $f(x) = \sqrt{x}$ .

---

Solution

You can take the cube root of a negative number, but you can't take the square root of a negative number.