

Exercise 2

If the graphs of two linear functions are perpendicular, describe the relationship between the slopes and the y -intercepts.

Solution

If two lines are perpendicular, then one slope is the negative reciprocal of the other. The y -intercepts are different.