Exercise 5

If the graph of a polynomial just touches the x-axis and then changes direction, what can we conclude about the factored form of the polynomial?

Solution

You can conclude that the multiplicity of the factor corresponding to this zero is even.